Burgess Enterprises Debuts the New Teapresso Machine at 2007 Coffee Fest

Renton, Washington-Burgess Enterprises is proud to announce the debut of the new Teapresso Machine at Coffee Fest, November 9-11, 2007 in Seattle, Washington. This machine, with its ability to easily and consistently deliver a gourmet quality brewed cup of tea in record time, is sure to revolutionize the tea industry like the espresso machine revolutionized the coffee industry.

The Teapresso machine, manufactured by Klub, combines German engineering and machinery with expert technology to quickly and easily brew the perfect cup of tea. This technology enables tea to be brewed with gourmet finesse in record time by applying the same concept of pressure brewing to tea that espresso machines apply to coffee. Some tea brewers presently use their espresso machines to attempt to speed up the brewing process with mediocre results. The Teapresso delivers the correct combination of time, temperature, and pressure to extract the essence out of tea as well as an espresso machine draws it out of ground coffee. The result is a perfectly brewed cup of gourmet quality tea every time, much faster than ever before possible. The Teapresso is available as both a stand alone tea machine and as combination tea and espresso machine. The combination tea and espresso machine will allow tea and espresso retailers to conveniently sell both espresso and tea drinks all from one machine.

With the rising popularity of tea, the timing of the development of this machine could not be better. Specialty tea houses are growing quickly across the United States and many traditional espresso businesses are expanding their offerings and maximizing profits by adding specialty tea drinks to their menu. People all over the world are drinking more tea in response to studies that prove the health benefits of drinking tea, including lowering cholesterol, contributing to weight loss (green tea), improving cardiovascular health, and guarding against some forms of cancer.

Burgess Enterprises has been providing the restaurant and food service industries with the highest quality espresso machines, accessories, carts, kiosks, consultation and training for forty six years. Today, Burgess Enterprises is the leading manufacturer of espresso carts and kiosks in the United States, and is a growing force in other segments of the branded and food service markets.
